The Wrestling Match

Those who attended the wrestling match here on Friday night last were handed out the goods to the full value of their money and went away quite satisfied that they had not been stung by the promoters of the contest. The doors of the hall were not opened till half past nine and those who came in from the country walked the streets killing time. At 9.45 Guss Collins Lycombe, the heavy weight champion of Alberta announced the preliminary bout between a "dark horse" named Johnson and Alex Boode. This was a one side event. Boode allowing his antagonist to give him a good body massage for about 5 minutes after which he secured a scissor hold on the body and laid him on his back in three quarters of a minute. The next fall of the preliminary was taken by Boode in four minutes and thirty seconds by a double scissor hold on arm and leg.

Refere Collins now called the main bout and as the contestants appeared introduced them to the audience. Alf Bremner came out of the dressing room first and took his seat at his corner of the mat. Johnson acting as his second. Immediately after Young Berg took his place, his second being Dave Arnell. Of the two men Berg appeared to be in better condition also looking 15 lbs heavier in weight.

Guss Collins now ordered the men to get busy and after considerable sparring for holds Berg went to the mat. For nine minutes and twenty seven seconds both worked hard when Bremner secured a scissor and head hold and put Berg's shoulders on the mat. The crowd gave Bremner the glad hand which he acknowledged with a confident smile.

A crotch hold on the head gave Berg the second fall in 4 minutes and ten seconds. In this fall the better physical condition and weight stood him in good stead.

Bremner started off strong on the last spassam but he could not stand the pace although a couple of times he nearly had Berg down. At last Berg got a scissor hold on the body and forced Bremner shoulders to the mat after a six and three quarter minute struggle.

The dance after the match was quiet, and enjoyable time was had by the few that remained.

The fly proposition, there are different ways of treating him you can poison him with Wilson's fly pads, catch him alive with tangle foot or you can choke to death with Persian Insect powder so you just pay your money and take your choice. Perrins Drug Store, Bowden.

An Easy Pill to Take.—Some persons have repugnance to pills because of their nauseating taste. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are so prepared as to make them agreeable to the most fastidious. The most delicate can take them without feeling the revulsion that follows the taking of ordinary pills. This is one reason for the popularity of these celebrated pills, but the main reason is their high tonical quality as a medicine for the stomach.

Canadian Surgeon Honored.

Dr. Alexander Hugh Ferguson, one of the best known of Chicago's physicians, and a popular ex-Canadian, was recently elected president of the Chicago Medical Society in a most keenly contested election. Dr. Ferguson is a native of Manilla, Ont., where he was born in 1853. He was educated at Rockwood Academy and Manitoba College, and began his medical studies under Dr. John H. O'Donnell at Winnipeg, in 1877. He took a course in the medical college of Trinity University, becoming honor graduate, M.D., C.M., of Trinity University. He spent part of his time, soon after his graduation, in visiting various American hospitals and in taking a special course at Koch's laboratory, Berlin. He entered upon the practice of his profession at Buffalo, N.Y., in 1881, but soon after returned to Winnipeg, where he practiced until 1894, at the same time being largely instrumental in founding Manitoba Medical College, and was chosen first president of the Manitoba Branch of the British Medical Association. Since 1894 he has been an eminent member of the medical profession in Chicago. He was induced to go there as professor of surgery in the Post-Graduate Medical School, and in 1900 was elected to the position he now holds as professor of clinical surgery in the College of Physicians and Surgeons, the medical department of the Illinois State University. Dr. Ferguson was notified not long ago that he had been awarded a commandership in the Order of Christ of Portugal, the highest decoration that King Carlos of that country can bestow on any one outside of royalty.

A Careful Lover.

A Canadian farmer living near Toronto, is fortunate enough to possess a hired man from Scotland who is sober, honest and industrious. The latter recently confided to his employer the fact of his attachment to a lassie who is earning her own living in one of the city shops.

"Jessie's a fine young woman," said the canny Scot. "She doesn't expect me to spend much money on foolishness. If you will believe me, I've been courtin' Jessie for two years and all that time I've spent but a dollar and a half on the lassie. Eh, but she's a sensible girl!"

Not many comic operas or boxes of chocolates, to say nothing of a lavish display of violets, could have come out of that extremely moderate expenditure.

"Mr. Osgood Hall."

That Osgood Hall is a respectable old man who grinds out legal grit when not otherwise engaged is the idea of a New Ontario bushranger. A letter has reached Osgood addressed to "Mr. Hall, Toronto," and in the letter he is called Mr. Osgood Hall.

The writer hails from Emo, and explains that he has been busy fire-rangin' for some time, and asks "Mr. Hall" for information about some far-off legal squabble wherein he was assessed $20 for fees.

Brazil's Forests.

Brazil is far from having the amount of forest with which it is generally credited in the United States and Europe, though it has enough to supply all its needs under normal conditions.

This Consul Keeps Moving.

Maxwell K. Moorhead, U. S. Consul at St. John, N.B., who has been promoted to the consulate at Rangoon, British Burma, has seen service for his Government in many parts of the world.

Mr. Moorhead entered upon his consular career in St. Thomas, Ont., where he married a daughter of Judge Kramlinger. When the office there was abolished he was transferred to Belgrade, the capital of Serbia. After serving for two or three years with distinction he was sent to Acapulco, Mexico, and about a year ago was promoted to St. John. The policy of the State Department evidently is to keep the younger officers moving.

Rangoon is the chief town and principal seaport of Lower Burma, and had a population of 232,326 in 1901. It covers an area of 22 square miles, and is populated by Hindus, Mohammedans and Christians. The town, which was founded in 1753 by Alaung Choosa, the founder of the Burma dynasty, occupies a long stretch of high lands with wide, boulevard streets. Its name is chiefly familiar to most readers because it is mentioned in Kipling's "Mandalay."

Long Distance Talkers.

Mr. Fisher, who holds the Parliamentary record for lengthy speeches, although he has close competitors for this doubtful honor in his colleagues, Messrs. King and Lemieux, must look to his laurels. His supremacy in the straight away talk race was seriously challenged recently by Mr. George H. Bradbury, the member for Selkirk, who occupied four hours and a quarter of the time of the House in explaining the circumstance surrounding the "fencing of 21,000 acres of land from the St. Peter's Reserve Indians by the Department of Interior, who sold it to a group of political friends at an average of $5 an acre; the Indian agent who was supposed to look after the wards of the Government helping the thing along by himself buying some of the lands thus obtained." It costs no less than $21 to run Parliament for a minute, so Mr. Bradbury's speech was expensive, costing $5,355. If there was some pedometer system which would tax each member so much on his indemnity for these long trials of the patience of the House, Parliament would not find it necessary to sit for six months in the year.

Youthful Genius.

Pascal wrote treatises on acoustics at twelve, at which age he was busily occupied in constructing elaborate circulating machines, and at sixteen he published his treatise on "Conic Sections," which Descartes refused to believe was not the work of a great master. John Stuart Mill was studying Greek at three, had practically mastered the language at seven, and a year later was acting as schoolmaster to his younger brothers and sisters. John Ruskin actually produced a manuscript work in three volumes before he reached his seventh birthday.

You Cannot Get The Kidneys Well

Until You Awaken the Sluggish Liver and Bowels—That is Why Dr. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS Succeed.

The kidneys can never be reckoned with as independent of the liver. Both are filters of the blood. The poisons left in the blood by a torpid liver must be taken out by the kidneys.

So one of the first things to think about when the kidneys get sick and backaches come, is the condition of the liver and bowels.

Because this fact was considered when Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were perfected, this great medicine has a wonderful record for curing the most complicated cases of kidney disease.

You know kidney disease by the backache, deposits in the urine, pain when passing water and continued loss of flesh and weight.

The other symptoms which usually accompany this condition, such as indigestion, constipation and biliousness point to the congestion of the liver and bowels.

To get a thorough cure you can depend on Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills as being both prompt and certain in action.

The liver is awakened at once, the bowels are set in action. The system is thoroughly cleansed and the burden quickly taken from the overworked kidneys.

Mr. John O'Neal, Mt. Rose, Annapolis Co., N.S., writes: "For fifteen years or more I was troubled with kidney disease and was so bad at times that I could not work at all. The many remedies I tried all failed to help me, but by using three boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I have been completely cured."

Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills positively cure kidney disease, biliousness, indigestion and constipation. One pill a dose, 25 cts. a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for free copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes.

The Other Kind.

Mr. Soak—Have you got any of this new kind of whiskey that won't make a man drunk?

Proprietor—Yes, sir.

Mr. Soak—Well, give me a quart of the other kind.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

An Oil for All Men.—The sailor, the soldier, the fisherman, the lumberman, the out-door laborer and all who are exposed to injury and the elements will find in Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil a true and faithful friend. To ease pain, relieve colds, dress wounds, subdue lumbago and overcome rheumatism, it has no equal. Therefore it should have a place in all home medicines and those taken on a journey.

The culture which knows how to burn money without making too much of a smudge is at all events a very practical culture.

The Bowels Must Act Healthily.—In most ailments the first care of the medical man is to see that the bowels are open and fully performing their functions. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are so compounded that certain ingredients in them act on the bowels solely and they are the very best medicine available to produce healthy action of the bowels. Indeed, there is no other specific so serviceable in keeping the digestive organs in healthful action.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

Skin Troubles Cured

To those who have suffered long and hopelessly with eczemas, tetter and similar torturing, disfiguring eruptions, the immediate relief afforded by the first warm bath with Cuticura Soap and gentle application of Cuticura Ointment is almost beyond belief. In even the severest cases, when treatment after treatment has been tried in vain, the itching and burning generally stop at once and sleep becomes possible. No stronger proof of the success and economy of the Cuticura Remedies in the treatment of affections of the skin and scalp, from infancy to age, could be given than such remarkable testimonials as these:

"GRATEFUL FOR WONDERFUL CURE"

I have been treated by doctors for twenty-five years for a bad case of eczema on my leg. They did their best, but failed to cure it. My own doctor had advised me to have my leg cut off, but I said I would try the Cuticura Remedies first. He said, "try them if you like but I do not think they will do any good." At this time my leg was peeled from the knee down, my foot was like a piece of raw flesh and I had to walk on crutches. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent. After the first two treatments the swelling went down and in two months' use of the Cuticura Remedies my leg was cured and the new skin grown on. The doctor could not believe his own eyes when he saw that Cuticura had cured me and said that he would use Cuticura for his own patients. But for the Cuticura Remedies I might have lost my life. I am truly grateful for the wonderful cure that Cuticura wrought. I have many grandchildren and they are frequent users of Cuticura and I always recommend it most highly as a sure and economical cure for skin troubles.

MME. J. B. RENAUD,

ULCER HEALED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

Some time ago I suffered from an ulcer which was caused by varicose veins. I was sitting, off my foot, for three months and had a physician attending me, but the ulcer seemed to be getting worse and was breaking out in another place. I was, however, advised to use Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment by the physician. The ulcer gradually healed by using Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and a perfect cure was the result. I do believe that only for the Cuticura Remedies the ulcer would never have been properly cured.

"WOULD HAVE DIED BUT FOR CUTICURA"

When my boy was about three months old his head broke out with a rash which was very itchy and ran a watery fluid. We tried everything we could but he got worse all the time, till it spread to his arms, legs, and then to his entire body. He got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would itch so that he would scratch till the blood ran and a thin yellowish stuff would be all over his pillow in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to prevent him tearing his skin. He was almost a skeleton and his little hands were thin like claws. He was bad about eight months when we tried Cuticura Remedies. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the daytime for a long while. I washed him with Cuticura Soap and put on one application of Cuticura Ointment and he was so soothed that he could sleep. You don't know how glad I was he felt better. It took one box of Cuticura Ointment and pretty near one cake of Cuticura Soap to cure him. I think our boy would have died but for the Cuticura Remedies and I shall always remain a firm friend of them. He was cured more than twenty years ago and there has been no return of the trouble.

MRS. M. C. MAITLAND,

BEDRIDDEN WITH ECZEMA SIX WEEKS

I suffered severely with a terrible eczema, being a mass of sores from head to feet and for six weeks confined to my bed. During that time I suffered continual torture from itching and burning. After being given up by my doctor I was advised to try the Cuticura Remedies. After the first bath with Cuticura Soap and application of Cuticura Ointment I enjoyed the first good sleep during my entire illness. I also used Cuticura Resolvent and the treatment was continued for about three weeks. At the end of that time I was able to be about the house, entirely cured, and have felt no ill effects since. I would advise any person suffering from any form of skin trouble to try the Cuticura Remedies as I know what they did for me.

CHAPTER XVI.

THE BURNING OF THE BUNGALOW.

HE went in and had tiffin with them in the bungalow garden. Deppingham was surly and preoccupied. Drusilla Browne was unusually vivacious. At best she was not volatile; her greatest accomplishment lay in the ability to appreciate what others had to say.

Her husband, aside from a natural anxiety, was the same blithe optimist as ever. He showed no sign of restraint, no evidence of compunction. Chase found himself secretly speculating on the state of affairs. Were the two heirs working out a preconceived plan, or were they, after all, playing with the fires of spring?

Immediately after tiffin Geneva carried Lady Deppingham off to her room. When they came forth for a proposed stroll in the grounds Lady Agnes was looking very meek and tearful, while the princess had about her the air of one who has conquered by gentleness.

"It has been so appallingly dull, Geneva, don't you understand? That's why. Besides, it isn't necessary for her to be so horrid about it. She—"

"She isn't horrid about it, dear. She's most self sacrificing."

"Rubbish! She talks about the Puritans and all that sort of thing. I know what she means. But there's no use talking about it. I'll do as you say—command, I mean. I'll try to be a prude. Heaven alone knows what a real prude is. I don't. All this tommyrot about Bobby and me wouldn't exist if that wretched Chase man had been a little more affable. He never noticed us until you came. No wife to snore after him and—why, my dear, he would have been ideal."

"It's all very nice, Agnes, but you forget your husband," said Geneva, with a tolerant smile.

"Geneva," said Lady Agnes solemnly, "if you'd been on a barren island for five months as I have with nothing to look at but your husband and the sunsets you would not be so hard on me. I wouldn't take Drusilla's husband away from her for the world. I wouldn't even look at him if he were not on the barren island too. I've read novels in which a man and woman have been wrecked on a desert island and lived there for months, even years, in an atmosphere of righteousness. My dear, those novelists are ninnyes. Nobody could be so good as all that without getting wings. I'm tired of men and angels. That's why I want you for awhile. You've got no wings, Geneva, but it's of no consequence, as you have no one to fly away from."

"Or to, you might add," laughed Geneva.

"That's very American. You've been talking to Miss Pelham. She's always adding things. By the way, Mr. Chase sees quite a lot of her. She types for him. I fancy she's trying to choose between him and Mr. Saunders. If you were she, dear, which would you choose?"

"Mr. Saunders," said Geneva promptly. "But if I were myself I'd choose Mr. Chase."

"Speaking of angels, he must have wings a yard long. He has been chosen by an entire harem, and he flies from them as if pursued by the devil. I imagine, however, that he'd be rather dangerous if his wings were to get out of order unexpectedly. But he's nice, isn't he?"

The princess nodded her head tolerantly.

Her ladyship went on: "I don't want to walk, after all. Let us sit here in the corridor and count the prisms in the chandeliers. It's such fun. I've done it often. Mr. Britt has advanced a new theory. We are to indulge in double barreled divorce proceedings. As soon as they are over Mr. Browne and I are to marry. Then we are to hurry up and get another divorce. Then we marry our own husband and wife all over again. Isn't it exciting? Only, of course, it isn't going to happen. It would be so frightfully improper—shocking, don't you know. You see, I should go on living with my divorced husband even after I was married to Bobby. I'd be obliged to do that in order to give Bobby grounds for a divorce as soon as the estate is settled. But Deppy has put his foot down hard. He says he had trouble enough getting me to marry him the first time. He won't go through it again. Of course it's utter nonsense!"

"A little nonsense now and then is—"

"Is Mr. Chase to stay for lunch?" asked Lady Agnes irrelevantly.

"How should I know? I am not his hostess."

"Holy toby! I've never known you to look like that before. A little dash of red sets your cheeks off!" But Geneva threw up her hands in despair and started toward the stairway, her chin tilted high. Lady Agnes, laughing softly, followed. "It's too bad she's down to marry that horrid little Brabets," she said to herself, with a sudden wistful glance at the proud, vibrant, lovable creature ahead. "She deserves a better fate than that."

Geneva waited for her at the head of the stairway.

"Agnes, I'd like you to promise that you will keep your avuncular claws off Mrs. Browne's husband," she said seriously.

"I'll try, my dear," said Lady Agnes meekly.

When they reached the garden they found Deppingham smoking furiously and quite alone. Chase had left some time before to give warning to the English bank that trouble might be expected. The shadow of disappointment that flitted across Geneva's face was not observed by the others. Bobby Browne and his wife were off strolling in the lower end of the park.

"Poor old Deppy!" cried his wife. "I've made up my mind to be exceedingly nice to you for a whole day."

"I suppose I ought to beat you," he said slowly.

"Beat me? Why, pray?"

"I received an anonymous letter this morning telling me of your goings on with Bobby Browne," said he easily.

A dark, saturnine face appeared.

"It was stuck under my door by Bromley, who said that Miss Pelham gave it to her. Miss Pelham referred me to Mr. Britt, and Mr. Britt urged me to keep the letter for future reference. I think he said it could be used as Exhibit A. Then he advised me to beat you only in the presence of witnesses."

"The whole household must be going mad," cried Geneva, with a laugh.

"Oh, if something only would happen!" exclaimed her ladyship. "A riot, a massacre—anything! If all sounds like a farce to you, Geneva, but you haven't been here for five months, as we have."

As they moved away from the vine covered nook in the garden a hand parted the leaves in the balcony above, and the dark, saturnine face of a trusted servant appeared behind it. This secret espionage had been going on for days in the chateau. Scarcely a move was made or a word spoken by the white people that escaped the attention of the swarthy spy. And, curiously enough, these spies were no longer reporting their discoveries to Hollingsworth Chase.

The days passed. Hollingsworth Chase now realized that he no longer had authority over the natives. Rasula made the reports for the Islanders and took charge of the statements from the bank.

Every morning Chase rode boldly into the town, transacted what business he could, talked with the thoroughly disturbed bankers and then defiantly made his way to the chateau. He was in love with the princess—desperately in love. He understood perfectly—for he was a man of the world and cosmopolitan—that nothing could come of it. She was a princess, and she was not in a story book; she could not marry him.

So far as Geneva was concerned, on her part it could mean no more than a diversion, a condescension to coquetry, a simple flirtation; it meant the passing of a few days, the killing of time, the pleasure of gentle conquest, and then—forgetfulness. All this he knew.

At first she revolted against the court he so plainly paid to her in these last few days. It was bold, conscienceless, impertinent. She avoided him; she treated him to a short season of disdain; she did all in her power to rebuke his effrontery—and then in the end she decided to give him as good as he sent in this brief battle of folly. It mattered little who came off with the fewest scars, for in a fortnight or two they would go their separate ways, no better, no worse, for the conflict. And, after all, it was very dull in these last days, and he was very attractive and very brave and very gallant and, above all, very sensible.

HOME FROM BURMAH.

Canadian Missionary Tells of Habits of the Kachins.

Full of interest is the story of a Canadian missionary's work among the Nat worshippers of Burma as told by Rev. F. J. Ingram of Brockville, Ont., who is returning to Canada by way of London, after seven years spent among the Kachins, a warlike tribe who live near the Chinese frontier, says Alex. Pringle, writing from London to The Toronto World. This race has no written language; the people are very poor and according to their belief are afflicted by evil spirits. The reasons they give for this trinity of misfortunes are very amusing.

Nat (spirit) worship forms the total sum of a Kachin's life and this bad luck race attribute every unfortunate happening to the baneful influence of the spirit. When a misfortune small or great happens to a Kachin it is to him a sign that the Nats are displeased with him and that sacrifice is necessary to avert further disaster. He immediately goes to a priest who decides what must be done to appease the wrathful spirit. The propitiation usually is the sacrifice of a bullock or buffalo. The animal is sacrificed and after a weird ceremony is carved up; the priest takes the best portions distributing to the people what remains.

Teaching a new religion to people like these must be very difficult. It is hard for most of us to divorce ourselves from early training and consequent prejudices and to adjust our minds in a fair attitude to new conditions. And the inability to adapt themselves to a new teaching is made more difficult to the Kachins by reason of the length of tenure of their old belief, and the hard task of a missionary can be well understood when the reasons which the Kachins give for the present unfortunate condition of the race, are related. The tradition is this:

When the creation of the world was finished the Great Creator summoned the four races to appear before him. The Kachins, Shans, Chinese and Burmans answered the summons and the chief of each race received a book of laws which contained their language and a solution to every possible problem of life. The book was written on leather.

The tribes dispersed. On the way home the Kachins grew very hungry and no food being available they cooked the leather book and ate it.

Shortly after the Creator again commanded the races to appear before him. Now the three other races had not destroyed their books and by referring to them found that the Creator intended to distribute great wealth. So they made big baskets in which to receive the tokens of good will. The Kachins did not take any baskets. The distribution was made and the Kachins having nothing in which to carry away the gifts went home empty handed.

A third order was issued. Experience had taught the Kachins, they thought a further distribution of wealth was to be made. They made large hampers and every man went joyfully to the meeting place. Not so with the other races. They learned from the books that evil spirits were on the program. They went few in number and without baskets.

Of course the Kachins received all the evil spirits. This did not end their misfortunes. Evil spirits are all right if they can be kept in a closed hamper. But the journey was long; the loads were heavy and frequent rests were necessary on the homeward journey. At each resting place they deposited a few Nats to lighten their load and this is the reason that their whole world is inhabited by evil spirits.

Mr. Ingram's house was six days' journey from the nearest point of civilization. Sometimes for six months he would not see a white face. His nearest "neighbors" were two Canadians engaged in the same work, Dr. Harper of Woodstock and Dr. Kelly of Toronto.

Cruelty to Cattle.

The cruel and senseless game of cattle-maiming and driving shows no abatement in Ireland. The other day one of these raids took place on the lands of Miss Summerville, about one mile from Galway City. Until last autumn Mr. Millins of Galway held twenty-five or thirty acres of the land for grazing purposes, but the United Irish League compelled him to surrender his tenancy. The land was then taken by a small farmer in the district. Although the whole district was patrolled by police, the sheep and thirty head of cattle were driven from the farm; many of the tails of the latter were severed and left lying in the fields.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON VII.—THIRD QUARTER,
AUG. 21, 1910.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xx, 17-34.
Memory Verses, 25-27—Golden Text, Matt. xx, 28—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

This lesson may be summed up in two great truths, His humiliation and His compassion for the blind. Both James and John and their mother were as truly blind as the blind men by the wayside, though not in the same measure or in the same way. The men by the wayside were blind to things temporal, the others in a great measure to things eternal. Again for the third or fourth time Jesus, on His way to Jerusalem for the last time, predicts His death and resurrection, events which were ever before Him, for He was set apart for this before the foundation of the world (I Pet. i, 20). Both in the law, the prophets and the psalms it was many times predicted and typified of Him from the time when He Himself provided redemption clothing for Adam and Eve by the shedding of blood (Gen. iii, 21). And after His resurrection He specially opened these very Scriptures to His disciples (Luke xxiv, 25-27, 44-48). But until the Spirit came at Pentecost to dwell in them they did not seem able to receive the teaching. It is one thing to have the Lord Jesus Christ as our teacher, and "Who teacheth like Him" (Job xxxvi, 22), but it is necessary to have His Holy Spirit in us in order that the truth may grasp us in power and be lived out in us. We must remember that the sufferings precede the glory, but if we suffer with Him we shall be glorified together. The greater part of this lesson is found in Matthew and Mark, but the first portion, which we are now considering, is found in Luke also. The account by Mark is the most full, and he tells us that the disciples were amazed and afraid. We also will often be amazed and afraid at many things unless filled with and taught by the Spirit. Luke says they understood none of these things (Luke xvii, 34).

The request of James and John, either directly or through their mother, or both, that they might sit on His right and left hand in His kingdom led to His question, "Are ye able to drink of the cup and be baptized with the baptism?" "Yes," they said, "we are able." Poor humanity! How little we understand it! Things heavenly are so far beyond us, and as to our own hearts they are deceitful and desperately wicked. But He who knows us thoroughly loves us in spite of all our weakness and wickedness and is able and willing to make new creatures of us if we will but let Him. Again He teaches that humility is true greatness and that even He, "the Son of Man, came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life a ransom for many" (verse 28). It is written in Psalm xlix, 6, 7, "They that trust in their wealth and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches—none of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him." But it is also written in Job xxxiii, 24, "Deliver him from going down to the pit; I have found a ransom." And again in I Tim. ii, 5, 6, "The man Christ Jesus gave Himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time." His great atonement is sufficient for the whole world, but it becomes efficient only for those who truly receive Him. It is only He that hath the Son who hath life.

In order that He might become a ransom for our sins He humbled Himself from heaven, from the glory which He had with the Father before the world was, to Bethlehem and Nazareth and Gethsemane and Calvary. He who had no sin and knew no sin humbled Himself to bear our sins and suffer for them in our stead. He was made sin for us that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him (II Cor. v, 21). We can write it, read it, talk about it, but we cannot comprehend it. He does not ask us to, but He does ask us to believe it that we shall in gratitude to Him live a life of ministry unto Him in whatever way He may appoint—not thinking anything of ourselves or seeking anything for ourselves, but living just to show Him to others by a life of loving ministry.

According to Matthew He healed two blind men as He departed from Jericho, and Mark gives the name of one as Bartimaeus. Matthew's two included Mark's one, so there is no discrepancy in these accounts. Luke says in chapter xviii, 35-43, that He healed a blind man as He entered Jericho and then adds in xix, 1, that He entered and passed through Jericho, visiting the home of Zaccheus as He passed through. It seems plain, then, that He healed three blind men, one as He entered Jericho and two as He left it, going on toward Jerusalem. There is nothing here to reconcile, but just room for simple faith and gratitude that three instead of two were so blessed and that Zaccheus was saved as He passed through. Considering the record by Matthew, note the cry of these men which could not be stopped as they heard that their opportunity had come. They had heard of Him and of His marvellous power over disease and death and doubtless had longed to come to Him, but how could they search Him out—two poor, blind beggars. Now He is actually passing along the road close by them.

MISERABLE WITH DYSPEPSIA

Another Wonderful Cure By That Wonderful Fruit Medicine
"Fruit-a-tives."

Mr. Mathias Dery, of 225 Church street, Ottawa, Ont., was treated for years by physicians for Painful Dyspepsia. He spent so much money for doctor's medicines without getting much relief that he had about made up his mind that his case was hopeless.

Seeing "Fruit-a-tives" advertised, however, Mr. Dery thought he would invest 50c in a box of these wonderful fruit juice tablets.

And this famous fruit medicine did for Mr. Dery what all the doctors could not do—it cured him.

He writes:—"Fruit-a-tives" positively cured me of severe Dyspepsia when physicians failed to relieve me."

"Fruit-a-tives" makes the stomach sweet and clean, insures sound digestion and regulates bowels, kidneys and skin.

TREASURES INESTIMABLE.

King George Master of More Valuable Than Any Other Monarch.

The treasures inherited by King George are almost inestimable. Both Windsor Castle and Buckingham Palace are filled with valuables of every description—plate, pictures, jewels, statuary, books and relics of great historic value. The so-called gold pantry at Windsor consists of two large fire-proof storerooms in which is kept plate of an estimated value of $8,750,000, says a writer in Pearson's Weekly. The gold plate which is used for state banquets weighs over five tons. It is not, of course, all solid gold. If the larger pieces were gold they would be too heavy to move at all. Some of the epergnes, which are of silver gilt, take four men to lift. It takes one man to carry two dishes or eight plates. The latter are of pure gold.

There is not much ancient English plate in the gold pantry. Charles I. melted down all the plate of his day and coined it into money. But there are some exquisite foreign pieces, among them a great silver Bagon taken from the flagship of the Spanish Armada, and the famous Nautilus cup, made by that master of the art, Benvenuto Cellini. There is a shield by the same great Italian, and the wonderful gold tiger's head taken from Tipoo Sahib's throne after the storming of Seringapatam in 1799.

This tiger's head is a marvelous work of art. It is life-size, and its teeth and eyes are cut out of pure rock crystal. Another relic captured at the same time is the jeweled bird called the Uma. In shape it is like a pigeon, with a peacock's tail. Its feathers blaze with precious stones, and a magnificent emerald hangs from its breast. According to an old Indian legend; whoever owns this bird will rule India. There is also a shield formed of snuff boxes and valued at $45,000, and a great quantity of beautiful cups and salvers, among them a rosewater fountain of silver designed by the late Prince Consort.

Detectives who reside at the castle as ordinary officials guard these vast treasures, and also the jewels which are locked in another underground safe. These jewels have, of course, nothing to do with the crown jewels, which are kept in the tower. They are the private property of the royal family. Queen Alexandra's personal jewelry is of immense value.

The royal library at Windsor contains over 100,000 volumes, among them many that would fetch enormous prices if put up to auction. There is a Metz Psalter, for which a collector would sell his last stick, a Charles I. Shakespeare, a magnificent Caxton on vellum, and other treasures too numerous to mention. Below the library is a room containing one of the finest collections of prints in existence. In the same room are no fewer than 20,000 drawings of the old masters and a collection of over 1,000 miniatures. The late Queen Victoria collected these miniatures.

Gutta Serena.

Gutta serena is a poor conductor of electricity, for which reason it is most successfully used for insulation of electric cables and other electric conductors. Friction causes negative electrification.

Birds of Paradise.

Probably no famous bird has a smaller habitat than the bird of paradise. No one knows why the varieties of this beautiful bird are confined to the island of New Guinea and the neighboring coasts of Australia. There are many other islands not far away where the conditions would seem to be equally favorable to their existence, but they are not found among them.

Sundials in China.

The Chinese have carried the art of sundials to perfection. One Chinese watchmaker has arranged his front porch in such a way the shadow of the posts tells the time by which to regulate the watches.

LUMBER PRICES DROP

PRICE OF COMMON LUMBER REDUCED $2.00 PER THOUSAND

Coast and Mountain Mill Men Hold Conference with Retailers at Banff
—Warning to Retailers who were Unwilling to Give the Farmers Benefit of Reduction—Trade is in a Very Satisfactory Condition.

Vancouver.—At the coast and mountain mill men's conference with the prairie retailers at Banff it was agreed to reduce the price on common lumber $2 per thousand. A number of retailers, who expressed an unwillingness to give the farmer the benefit of the reduction were given a warning.

All the reports presented showed the lumber trade to be in a flourishing condition. The stocks of the coast mill men were shown to have been one hundred and one million feet, as compared with two hundred million feet on January 1 and one hundred and seventy-five million feet a year ago.

The stocks of the mountain mills are now one hundred and sixty-five million feet, as against two hundred million feet this time last year. Spruce mills reported that they will have twenty million feet on hand at the end of the season, as compared with seventy-five million a year ago, and the white pine men east of Winnipeg, showed that their stocks are forty per cent less than they were a year ago.

Several spruce mills and one white pine saw mill have closed through lack of supply of logs. The former includes the Red Deer mill at Prince Albert. Two large saw mills in the Kootenay's were destroyed by fire last month, thus reducing the output for the present. British Columbia mill men also reduced the price on ship lap $1 per thousand. They also agreed that odd lengths would not comprise more than 25 per cent of their shipments to the prairies.

EQUALITY IN RIGHTS

Hon. Elihu Root Continues Argument Before the Hague Tribunal

The Hague.—Continuing his argument before the fisheries tribunal on behalf of the United States' claim, Hon. Elihu Root contended that fishing rights provided by the treaty of 1818 were not simply those of equality, but that the right to fish would be a liberty in common. Mr. Root submitted that the makers of the treaty understood it in accordance with the American contention and they had no idea whatever that the grant which they were making was to be subject to any power or authority of Great Britain to subject, restrict, limit, modify or affect it by legislation.

He contended that the French had exercised these fishing rights on part of these coasts under the earlier treaty with Great Britain without being subject to local regulations, and to the American right. The same terms were in effect the same rights, and were understood to be the same before the lawyers began to argue to try and find some distinction between the two.

GENERAL FRENCH'S REPORT

Finds That in Event of War Breaking Out Forces Would Not Be Prepared

Ottawa.—It is stated by those who should be in a position to know that the report of General Sir John French on the conditions obtaining in the Canadian militia contains three cardinal features:

(1) That the peace organization and the composition of the militia should be such that, in the event of war breaking out, the forces would be ready to take the field forthwith. The general finds that this is not the state of affairs at present.

(2) That better qualified and more effective staffs than at present should be in command of brigade divisions.

(3) That the period of annual training is wholly inadequate to produce satisfactory results.

Future of Canada is Westward

London.—The British Weekly says: "For once we almost envy any Liberal member going down to the country. The Canadian revolt against protection is a great fact, so great that it cannot be silenced or suppressed by any conspiracy of Unionist papers."

"It is a momentous fact that Canadian farmers desire no preference in the British market. Canadian manufacturers will fight hard, but the future of Canada is in the west."

Emigration of Punjabis

Calcutta.—A remarkable emigration of Punjabis, Mohamedans and Sikhs, who are leaving for Hong Kong with the avowed intention of proceeding to California, is engaging the official attention of the United States consul-general. The greater number belong to the fighting castes and are under the impression that they can get on the American police force.

Dirt is Flying

Lethbridge.—Some two hundred men and teams are leaving the Grassy Lake district for the Three Hills country, 50 miles northeast of Calgary, where the dirt is flying on the G. T. P. The Canadian Northern railway is also heading for Calgary. Before this time next year it is expected that both these lines will be in Calgary and heading with their branch lines for the south.

FORESTRY WORK IN FAR NORTH

A. Knechtel Tells of the Progress Made Along Route of Proposed Railway

Winnipeg.—A. Knechtel, of the Dominion department of forestry, who returned recently from a trip of some weeks' duration through the territory which will be opened up by the construction of the Hudson Bay railway, gave an interesting account of his journey.

"Through the courtesy of his excellency," said Mr. Knechtel, "I was permitted to come to Winnipeg on the Wolverine, in company with Countess Grey and Lady Evelyn. I found the countess very much interested in the forestry work being done by the Dominion government, and found her very observant of the species, forms and habits of growth of the different trees."

"Oxford House, which was the most northerly point I touched, is south-west of and four days' journey from Hudson Bay. The trip was an official one. The department has quite recently established under my direction three parties, consisting of four men each; one party to operate from the Pass along the proposed line of the Hudson Bay railway; another to operate along the Nelson river to Split Lake; and the third to work around between Norway House and Oxford House, and from there out towards Hudson Bay. I went to Oxford House to establish one of these parties, the other two having previously been established."

"Their duties are, in the summer time, to post fire notices printed in English and in Cree, along the main routes of travel, and to meet travellers and instruct them with regard to the great necessity of putting their campfires out before leaving them. In case a fire occurs, the party having charge of that district are supposed to do their best to extinguish it. In the summer they will travel mostly with canoes, in the winter work will be to locate, and to prepare a map of all tracts of timber land, giving in each case an estimate of the kinds, quantities and qualities of timber, with special mention of localities where tie and bridge timber may be secured. I was much surprised to find the shores along my route so well timbered, although the timber is mostly of small dimensions. It consists chiefly of white spruce, jack pine, balsam, poplar and white birch. I did not notice much merchantable timber; but if the fires are kept out, it should in time become very valuable."

"My route lay along the line of the proposed Hudson's Bay railway. The ground is mostly flat, although in places the banks of the river ascend to a height of more than one hundred feet. In places the soil is arable."

"I do not think that the country is suitable for raising wheat, since summer frosts are frequent; but probably barley and oats might be grown. In a garden at Norway House, I noticed the following vegetables, growing luxuriantly: Potatoes, peas, onions, carrots, beets, lettuce and radishes. Red currants were also hanging on the bushes in great quantities."

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE DEAD

"Lady With the Lamp," Blessed by Thousands of Wounded Soldiers, Answers Last Call

London.—Florence Nightingale, the famous nurse of the Crimean war, and the only woman who ever received the Order of Merit, died on Saturday last at her London home. Although she had been an invalid for a long time, rarely leaving her room, where she passed the time in a half recumbent position, and was under the constant care of a physician, her death was somewhat unexpected.

Florence Nightingale was born in Florence, Italy, in 1820. She went through a course of training at the Protestant Deaconess' institute and subsequently studied French methods in Paris. When the reports of the sufferings of the troops in the Crimea reached England, she sailed with a band of trained nurses for Scutaria, where she toiled until the British troops left the town in July, 1856.

Her nightly rounds of the wards, so eagerly awaited by the soldiers, won her the title of "The Lady With the Lamp." She was the first woman decorated with the Order of Merit and to be given the freedom of the city of London.

Twenty-five Chinese Stowaways Found

Seattle, Wn.—Twenty-five Chinese stowaways, who had eluded the inspectors at Vancouver, B.C., were captured aboard the British steamship Kumeric, recently arrived from Hong Kong by immigration authorities. The Chinese had walled off a room twenty feet square under the cargo of the Kumeric. They had been confined to this den since the steamship left China early in July, and planned to slip ashore when the Kumeric reached Portland where she is going to load lumber.

Cadet Movement

London.—In an interview regarding the cadet movement Lord Dundonald says that General Lake in a recent report to the Canadian government entirely agreed with the views previously expressed by himself. There had been a great change of opinion in Canada lately on the question.

To Meet Americans

Nelson, B.C.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has telegraphed his willingness to meet in Nelson deputations from the Portland and Spokane chambers of commerce to discuss the international project for deepening the Columbia river and making it navigable from the Pacific to West Robson.

ESTIMATES FAIR YIELD

CROP OF ALBERTA FAR FROM BEING A FAILURE

Hon. Duncan Marshall, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, Estimates a Yield of 25,000,000 Bushels for Alberta—Dryness has been by no Means General, and Crop Failure Has Been Greatly Exaggerated.

Calgary.—Hon. Duncan Marshall, provincial minister of agriculture confidently expects that Alberta crops will yield 25,000,000 bushels this year as against 52,000,000 bushels last year. The minister who has made careful and exhaustive inquiries in every part of the province where crops are produced, in giving his computation to the Albertan said the estimate was a conservative one.

"It can't be said therefore that the Alberta crop this year is by any means a failure," he observed.

The dryness so much complained of was by no means general. Even in the south part of the province where undoubtedly there had been a lack of rain he had seen some fair crops.

Only a few days ago he himself saw some good samples of winter wheat being threshed at Pincher Creek. It is the minister's opinion that there will be less winter wheat lost by frost this year than in previous years because it has matured much earlier.

"A good part of winter wheat has been cut, while the remainder is being cut very rapidly, so that danger from frosts will be avoided," he said.

That there will be no shortage of feed at all this year is another belief of Hon. Mr. Marshall's, and fearing that there might be a shortage as cultivated hay was thin in parts, the farmers set about cutting wild hay in places where they had never before touched it.

"I think there will be an abundance of hay for feeding this winter," he declared.

The railroads too were doing their best to help the ranchers, in districts where the grass had been burnt up, pointed out Mr. Marshall. They were offering ranchers special rates on sites so that they could take their cattle from the affected districts and put them in districts where the pasture was good. In some places too, stock was being driven some 30 or 40 miles from the ranch to well pastured parts so that they would not suffer for lack of feed during the winter.

TO LEASE HUDSON BAY ROAD

President Mackenzie of Canadian Northern Thinks That His Company Will Operate Line

Toronto.—"Oh, I suppose newspapers must be talking," said William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern railway, when questioned about the story from Ottawa, that his road would be given the operation of the new Hudson Bay railway which is a government road on a plan similar to that of the G. T. P. and National Transcontinental.

Mr. Mackenzie, however, made no secret of the fact that he expected to operate the new line.

"We have a charter to build it, and as it is right at the end of our road isn't it a likely thing that we would operate it?" Mr. Mackenzie said. "No," he added. "Of course nothing has been definitely settled yet. Sir Wilfrid, I see, has been saving in the west that the Hudson Bay line must be built at once, and that the point of its operation remains to be settled by parliament."

Pressed for further particulars, Mr. Mackenzie would say nothing further than that it was "probable" the new government line would be leased to the C. N. R.

FAVORS NEW ROUTE

Government Would Like Part of C.N.R. Calgary-Edmonton Branch To Go Further North

Ottawa.—A. W. Campbell, deputy minister of railways and canals, recently heard the application for approval of the route map of the Canadian Northern Calgary and Edmonton branch to Brazeau river, through Red Deer. A portion of the line from Stewart to the western boundary of range 25 was approved. From there on the department asked that the railway make enquiry as to the feasibility of locating a northern route via Lacombe to Rocky Mountain House.

In respect to the present proposed route, it was pointed out that Red Deer is already served by the Alberta Central and a more northerly line would open up a new country. Senator Peter Talbot represented the Lacombe district, while Red Deer was represented by Mr. Mitchener, M.P.P., and Mayor McKee.

Retired Military Men Settling in West

Quebec.—Major the Hon. Arthur Broderick, commanding the Godalming territorialists, came out on the steamship Victorian with fifteen settlers for Brandon, Man., and if his project succeeds he intends to settle all the retiring members of the regiment in the same locality. The project has the approval of Lord Strathcona.

Australia Arranges Land Tax

Melbourne.—The progressive tax on unimproved value of land has been provided for. The bill was read for the first time. It will, in the case of absentee landlords, be a penny tax throughout, with no exemptions.

THE PREMIER AT CALGARY

Fitting Reception Tendered to Sir Wilfrid Laurier by Citizens of Calgary

Calgary.—Calgary welcomed Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his friends with outstretched arms. Five thousand people met him on his arrival at the station. Twice that many more people greeted him from the pavement as the procession wended its way through the streets, and two thousand people braved the stormy night to the R. N. W. M. P. barracks grounds to meet him.

The proceedings may be described as successful. According to custom, Calgary people were not uproariously enthusiastic, thus living up to the ancient legend, but they were as enthusiastic, perhaps a trifle more so than they usually are, and all were well satisfied. Sir Wilfrid Laurier expressed himself on several occasions as delighted with the simple, plain, but kind welcome of the people.

"You are kindest of all," said the premier as he reached his hotel. "You meet me; you welcome me; then you allow me to go and rest. I appreciate it all very much, not excepting the opportunity to go and rest."

The proceedings for the big reception were carried out very fully. The spirit of the whole welcome was to furnish an opportunity for the premier to meet the people of Calgary, and for the people of Calgary to meet the premier. Probably half of the crowds, perhaps a few more, had never seen the premier and had never heard him speak. In as simple and unostentatious a manner as possible the programme was carried out.

Six thousand people, perhaps more, took part in the last incident in the celebrated visit to Calgary of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at a meeting on Saturday night which was a fitting climax to the events of the two closing days of the week. It was one of the most remarkable meetings that has ever been held in Western Canada, and without doubt was the largest audience which has ever listened to a speaker in Alberta. There was much enthusiasm, much applause and not a solitary, single interruption save the cheers and acclamations of the people.

PAVING WAY FOR AGREEMENT

Representatives of Canada and United States Confer in New York

New York.—A preliminary meeting designed by its promoters to pave the way for an agreement between the Interstate Commerce and the railway Commission of Canada, whereby international commerce shall be regulated, was held in the Hotel Manhattan recently.

Marlin M. Tapp, chairman of the Interstate Commerce commission, and J. P. Mabey, chief commissioner of the Railway Commission of Canada, were the conferees. It is plain that the conference, which will extend over several days, will likely result in the adoption of a tentative working agreement. This will later be elaborated on, and it is hoped will be adopted by the commissions.

Traffic by rail and water are being considered in all its international bearings. Though there has not been any clash on international commerce recently there has grown up a necessity for a common understanding between the commissions in this country and Canada, because of the great increase in trade between the two nations.

PLANNING CAMPAIGN

Stir Up Feeling Among French Canadians Against Government Naval Policy

Montreal.—The Nationalist party, of which Mr. Henri Bourassa is the chief, is planning a vigorous campaign through the French Canadian settlements against the government's naval policy. As a starter they will hold eight meetings in different places on August 21. The speakers include Kean Provost, Armand Lavergne, Arthur Plante and numerous minor orators. Mr. Bourassa himself is not slated to speak at any of the meetings, though he is behind the campaign, and his paper Le Devoir, contains the announcement of the opening of the movement.

AMERICAN DEFENCE CONCLUDED

Decision of The Hague Tribunal is Expected to be Given in September

The Hague.—Senator Root concluded his defence of the American claims and the arbitration tribunal will proceed immediately to prepare its decision. Although the agreement permits two months wherein to prepare and publish the award, it is not anticipated that more than half of that period will be required and that in the middle of September the representative counsels of both nations will be asked to return to The Hague to hear the decision and to see it put into proper form.

Canada and Hudson Bay

London.—Surveying the history of the ownership of Hudson Bay in an article recently, The Morning Post says that Canada possesses an indisputable and clearly defined claim to the Bay and the adjoining regions.

Fly Australian Flag

Melbourne.—The federal government is negotiating with the admiralty for permission to fly the Australian flag on the Australian warship. The admiralty has raised the question of possible international difficulties.

CROPS EAST AND WEST

HARD TO OBTAIN A CORRECT STATEMENT OF AVERAGES

Census Bulletin States that Conditions of Field Crops this Year Have Been Modified by Temperature and Rainfall—Report for Eastern Provinces Favorable, but Dry Weather in West Reduces Yield.

Ottawa.—A census bulletin issued recently states that the conditions of field crops in Canada this year have been greatly modified by temperature and rainfall and that between the east and the west it is hardly possible to make a statement of averages that will not be misleading. In the eastern provinces, growth has been uniformly good throughout July, and the percentages of condition have been high for every crop; but in extensive tracts of the north west provinces drought has prevailed and crops are reported in every stage of condition. The northerly parts of these provinces have been largely exempt from drought and there the per cent conditions are high. It is difficult to indicate fairly an average of conditions for the east and west which does not take account of areas sown and these have been considerably reduced since the June report.

Fall wheat is grown chiefly in Ontario and its condition for all Canada has been reduced by a relatively poor crop in Alberta compared with conditions at the same time last year. It is 84.63 to 76.53; rye is 85.20 in 1910 to 81.84 in 1909; peas 81.70 to 87; buckwheat 87.64 to 86.15; mixed grains 99.91 to 87.23; beans 84.43 to 83.33; potatoes 81 to 92; hay and clover 90.87 to 73.79; corn for husking 84.30 to 82.86, and corn for fodder 89.76 to 83. These crops, which are mainly grown in the east, show a high average of condition, affected only by a slight degree by reports from the west.

The average condition of spring wheat is 77 for 910 to 84.57 for 1909, and of oats 79.57 to 87.78 for all Canada, which is substantially lower than the averages for the east.

In the three northwest provinces the condition of spring wheat is 62, of oats 58.62 and of barley 63.60. The estimated yield of fall wheat in the country is 18,724,000 bushels, being 26.47 bushels per acre. The hay and clover crop is estimated at 15,490,000 tons or 1.80 tons per acre, and of alfalfa 1.92 tons per acre.

CLEVER FORGER CAPTURED

Forged Name of City Solicitor Moffat to a Cheque for Four Thousand Dollars

Calgary.—The Calgary police, aided by the Pinkerton agency, have just succeeded in making a very smart capture by arresting right in this city an alleged forger of the cleverest kind, who is wanted in Winnipeg, Chicago, New York and various other places.

J. Crow, alias McLaughlin, Stone, Lewis and several other aliases, is the real name of the alleged forger. Interest is added to the case by the fact that he was trying to put through a $4,000 deal on the local Bank of Nova Scotia by the forgery of City Solicitor Moffat's name. So well laid were his plans, he would have been successful but for his timely arrest. Only a short time ago Crow got away with $2,400 obtained from the Winnipeg branch of the bank of Hamilton, by forgery. He had been hunted from coast to coast by Pinkerton detectives for obtaining in the same way $5,000 in Chicago, $6,500 in New York, and large sums in various other cities. The Pinkertons lost track of him until the Winnipeg forgery took place on June 30. From there Pinkerton followed him to Calgary, where he was arrested, but for various reasons the details have been kept quiet until now.

BARTLETT IN COMMAND

Will Take Steamer to Hudson Bay To Meet Governor-General

Ottawa.—Captain Sam Bartlett, uncle of the navigator of the same name, who accompanied Commander Peary on his voyage to discover the North Pole, has taken the command of the steamer Earl Grey, which has gone to meet the governor-general on his Hudson Bay route.

A report states that Earl Grey has met the steamer Stanley at Port Bulwell, near the entrance to Hudson Straits. The Stanley sailed for these regions last spring, under the command of Captain Sam Bartlett, with material and provisions for the posts of the N. W. M. P., and for a group of explorers who had set out in search of George Caldwell, the Canadian explorer, from whom no news has been received for three years.

Will Drop Title

Montreal.—That a noble Scottish peer is about to drop his title and become an ordinary Canadian, settling down among his people in Canada's great west, is the news brought by W. D. Yates, who arrived in the city recently. Yates is factor for the Duke of Sutherland, and is on his way to Alberta to arrange for the settlement of one hundred farmers from the duke's estate in Scotland on Alberta land, which his lordship has recently acquired.

Mr. Yates announces that the Duke of Sutherland will come to Canada himself next year, drop his title, and settle down on an Alberta ranch.

SUMMER RESORT

From Trochu Times

The Lake is developing very rapidly as a pleasure resort and already numbers of people from Calgary, Red Deer and Lethbridge are spending the week-ends at the lake. Trochu is especially fortunate in being situated within easy reach of this beauty spot and it is noticeable that the people of Trochu have commenced to take advantage of the pleasure which it affords. Mr. Carriack has erected an excellent little summer hotel on the lake front. The establishment is well fitted up and possesses every convenience that one requires to make an outing so enjoyable. The hotel contains a very fine dance-hall with wide aisles and veranda looking out to the lake. In addition to this special attraction Mr. Carriack has a large number of excellent boats for hire as well as a first-class motor launch. Now, as to say, the fishing is excellent, the lake being a perfect paradise for the angler. There is certainly no more enjoyable or picturesque spot to spend a week end than Pine Lake.

THE MARKETS

In the local market Oats have maintained the 50 cent level and buyers have no difficulty in obtaining large lots at small quantities at 45 cents. It was not to be expected that oats would remain at 50, in this district when prices at Fort William and Port Arthur ruled in the neighborhood of 40. But there is no doubt that the oat market through Alberta has a good future before it this year and farmers holding large quantities of oats need not be anxious to dispose of their holdings at 45. Much will, naturally, depend on the amount harvested this year but grainmen in general look to see a decided shortage, in the west.

THE CROPS

Farmers in general have not viewed with any favour the heavy rains of last week and there is no doubt but what considerable damage has been done to a large quantity of hay on the ground. Warm weather and bright sunshine is needed now, especially for the more backward crops. North and north-west of Trochu a little grain has been cut already and a good many hundred acres will be harvested this week providing the weather is favourable. Wheat will be a valuable crop this year and farmers would do well to harvest their grain carefully, even if the yield is small.

Dear Sir—
 Might I inquire what has become of the Board of Trade.

Sunday Observer

To the Editor of "The Trochu Times"

Dear Sir—
 Would you be good enough to inform me through the medium of your column what the law is in regard to participating in various sports and pleasures on Sunday. Are there any pleasures in which one can indulge, and if so, what do they consist of?

Sportsman

We are not very well acquainted with the exact reading of the law in regard to Sunday observance and will have to reserve our answer for our next issue. Sportsman's reference to "pleasures" conveys a very vague impression. The pleasures of one individual are not the pleasures of another, in the same way that the pleasures of one age differs from the pleasures of another age. Some people take pleasure in breaking the law in regard to Sunday observance while others derive pleasure in enforcing it. Ed.

Gladstone and Tobacco

Gladstone held that tobacco smoke and women should never be associated and was a firm believer in the doctrine of that famous beau, the Marquis of Londonderry, who said that no man should talk to a woman within four hours of the time he had finished his cigar. This is said to be one reason why Gladstone hated the custom of smoking after dinner, although it is thought that his own great dislike for the smell of tobacco may have had something to do with it.

WHEN BABY'S LIFE IS MOST IN DANGER

Summer is the season when the mother finds it most difficult to keep her little ones well. The complaints that afflict the babies during the hot summer months come on so quickly and so unexpectedly that often it is too late before the mother realizes that her baby is anything but well. In summer the mother should make a special effort to keep baby's bowels regular and his little stomach sweet and pure, for this is the secret of successfully warding off those dangerous summer complaints. The mother will find a great friend in Baby's Own Tablets during the hot weather. These Tablets regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and thus ward off or cure cholera infantum, diarrhoea, colic, vomiting, etc. Mrs. Wm. Sinclair, Bonaventure River, Que., writes: "I can highly recommend Baby's Own Tablets, as they have done my baby much good." Alfalfa for Horses

According to the information gained by the Kansas Agricultural College, and detailed on a bulletin on the subject, there seems to be an almost universal opinion among horsemen, and especially among those that are raising heavy horses, that no grass or combination of grasses equals or even approaches the value of alfalfa as a pasture for horses. It is maintained that from an economical point of view it has no equal, as it will furnish so much more feed per acre than any other grass. It will not only pasture more horses, but it will produce horses of greater weight, larger bones, and stronger muscles. "A horse that has been reared in an alfalfa pasture and fed a light ration of alfalfa pasture all winter," says the bulletin, "makes one of the finest horses to be found in any market today. To produce a horse of the highest type, with the cleanest bone, the best developed muscle, the best temperament and the greatest action and finish, nitrogenous food must be used, and in no other feed can this most essential element of nutrition be so cheaply and so abundantly supplied as it can by feeding alfalfa. The most successful producers of both heavy and light horses are today using alfalfa extensively in the development of their young horses. Its value for the purpose is not recognized by the Kansas feeder alone, for after seeing Kansas alfalfa-grown horses, eastern breeders, where alfalfa cannot be grown, are sending their colts to Kansas alfalfa fields to be developed as they could not be at home."

A New or Kendall's Spavin Cure?

Warren, Ont. Feb. 11th.

M. ROSENTHAL.
Kendall's Spavin Cure is so untried experiment, but is the world's standard remedy for all Swellings, Soft Bunches and Lameness in horse and man.

Confirmation Sunday

His Lordship, the Bishop of Calgary visited St. Mathew's Church, Bowden on Sunday last for the purpose of confirming those who had been prepared by Rev McChin Bunting after the opening hymn his Lordship gave an address telling what confirmation means, its origin and advantages, this ceremony a confirmation then followed the class was not as large as was expected all the candidates were from Bowden, and were warmly welcomed by their fellow Church members after the confirmation. His Lordship gave another address in which he expressed his great surprise in which St. Mathew's Church had forgot to the front since his last visit. His Lordship could not say enough in praise of our splendid band of workers the W.A. who have been the ministry of the church since their organization through storm and trouble they have stayed with their church and in any financial difficulty they have incomparably (from some mysterious source) found means to clear the church from debt and at the present time have a surplus on hand for future needs. His Lordship also very warmly thanked the donor of the handsome sum of $80 generously given for the purpose of erecting a vestry for the church and though the person who donated the sum of money wishes to be unknown the church as a body wishes to extend to him or her their very heartiest thanks for a deed which will never be forgotten by the present congregation, and we can only echo his Lordship's prayer, that the generous deed may have the blessing of God visited a hundred-fold upon the benevolent unknown. His Lordship offered up a prayer dedicating the new vestry to our Heavenly Father. Holy Communion was administered to seventeen members of the church (including the new confirms) by His Lordship who was ably assisted throughout the service by our beloved Pastor Rev McChin Bunting, the singing was very noticeably improved by the help of our kind visitors from Olds who will always have a hearty welcome to St. Mathew Bowden the collection taken up ran over the $9 mark, and we think St. Mathew Church is here to stay in spite of reports to the contrary the congregation one and all have their church at heart, as the work which has been accomplished in last twelve months fully demonstrates.

The monthly meeting of the W.A. and vestry of St. Mathew will be held in the church on Tuesday Aug. 30 at 3 o'clock sharp.
